THE HERTICULTURAL SOCIETY .- The opening exhibition of this association at Masonic Hall ou Saturday was a very promising heginning for the snason. Though the display was necessarily limited to strawherries, early cherries, and toquots, still the quality compansated for any lack of quantity. The various varieties of etrawberries, the fevorites of our gardeners, were admirahly represented, and specimens of black and red cherries looked very tempting. But the rich display of rosea exceeded anything we expected, though the wenlth of our suhurhan residences in these "queens of the gerden" are well known. To Ormsby Hite, Esq, we are indehted for a honquet of the General Jaquinemot, Fortune's Yellow, and other species, deposited hy Thomas S. Kennedy, Erq, which in fragrence, size, judicious arrangement, and variety, we regard as the most heautiful collection we have ever seen. Our ladies must attend these Saturday matinees. and are their sister hads, blossoms, and flowers in all their leveliness.

ARRAIGNMENT FOR TREASON. - The United Stetes Court now in aesslon et Frankfort, hee commenced ite lahors, and severel indictments for treason have been found. A friend writing to us from that city says: "For the first time in my life I have witnessed the arraignment of a treltor-John Herman Diltz, sen-in-law of Gen. Deshe, end I should be glad never to witness another such scene. You could have heard a pin drop in the court-room while the clerk was readicg the indictment, end the prisoner, with his right hand held np, seemed reedy to sink into the earth. What his feelings were, God only knows. If neither 'imperial power nor the rocks of Ca prom' could give quiet to the heart of the tyrant Tiberlus, what can console a man who has lifted hie hend egainst the life of his country?"

THE WOOL TRADE -S. S. PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY. Seven'y third Session of the Old School. Columnus, O., May 22. M DRNING SESSION CONTINUED.

The next business was the presentation, by the Secretary, Mr. Cos. of the Seventh Annual Report of the Board of CHURCH EXIENSION.

CHURCH EXIENSION.

I take a few facts from it. There has been n great falling off from the fundi the past year. One third of the churches have failed to contribute to our Boards. The number of applications to this Board for aid during the year have been sixty-nine, which, with the number previously on the and unprovided for of nicoty-four, make 164, of which fifty-eight churches have received $17, 777, while the aid esked was $60.689.20. The means of the year have been $30,938.72, and the exactioners $29,182.42, leaving a believe $10,756.29, nill of which, except $395.81, bus hear appropriated. Since the appointmen of the Board in 1855 apprepriations have been made to 457 feeble churches whose buildings have cost an average each of $1.973.

Dr. Conover, Chairman of the Committee on

av-rege each of $1.973
Dr. Conover, Charman of the Committee on Church Extension, said that out of 32 feeble churches 21 were without buildings, and if $5,000 could be provided they would get their own houses in worship, and be enabled to do something by their contributions to our enterprises. He never keew a church to fail in making contributions to our strains Bards where the passor ibutious to onr various Boards where the pasto tirly and squaroly presented the case, and this specially should exhort all to ramember out

Mr. Coe, the Secretary, wished to apeak of matters not embraced in the report. He called attention to the importance of doing something in behalf of personages for feeble churches. It is a continuous manufacturies, while the and time to take up new enterprises, while the 'Notion is rocking on the surges of such a civil trife as was never seen before" One-fourth of r churches must have aid from the three-fourth or hut little progress can be made. Many congregations feel no if they must either build or die. Will you not present the cause to your congregations on the first Subath of next July?

Dr. Chester related a striking incident: Six niles form his location, a few families held prayer restings in a private house one of which a thin miles form his contion, a few families field prayer meetings in a private house, one of which a Quaker lady attended, and ask d them why they had no house, end on being told of their inability, she eaid, "I nm a Quakeress—hnild a house, present me the hill, and I will pay it to the last nail." Now a larger house is needed; and thus the spirit of that body and the encooragement of that needed, while up a four-ishing branch of voungest sister of the Church, and the Stato of Kanses as the youngest sister of the political confederecy, and he was reminded of the tax*, "Wa have a little sister and she has no breasts what shall he does for our little sister when ahe shall he spoken of?" We must nurse her well, and take care of her.

Report adopted. DISABLED MINISTERS. Judge Leavitt then presented the report of the Committee on the report of the Trustees for Dis-abled Ministers, being a series of resolutions to the effect of commenling the report of the Trustees io tha Paters and people of this denomination— nright annual collections in all the Churches for arging annual collections in all the Churches for this objec; that extra copies of this report he published for general distribution; that those Presbylories or Syncdi having funds, by grant or do nation, for this purples, present them to this Assembly, whera it can be done without violating the terms of the grant; that each Presbytery appoint an agent to take special interest in this matter &c.

Hon. Jas. L. Gwin hoped he would not he accused of meking this a hobby to the detriment of his views. Ho etrongly advocated the establishment of a permanent fund for those who shall be disabled in the service of the Church, so us to disable the control of the church of the control of the church o disabled in the service of the Church, so us to dispense with the necessity of collections. They have such funds in Great Britnin and on the continent of Europe. It would very much increase ministerial efficiency. Many telented young menere deterred from entering the ministry because of the poverty that may afflict them in old age, or when disebled. Were there a certain provision for them, we should find men of a higher order of talent entering the ministry. Annual collections will not encourage them, for it is a precatious dependence. An independent spitiet man finds it. pendence. An independent spirited man finds i difficult to consent to such a risk. He is humili ated in helng a subject of chariteble support, and this permanent fund would be his right should h need it. It is to be regerded in the same light as a life insurence. He stated the remark of one who was in doht, and said, "when a man is in doht he was in cont, and said, "when a man is in defit he losses about helf the working power of his brain." How true this is! end interested shin'd ell Christians feel in placing their ministers in a position above absolute went. We need $400,000 for this fund. Is this beyond the nbility of eo large and weelthy a denomination? We must have the $400,000, and shall have it, it God gives me streamth to corruit out. vision for themselves. He knew of persons who wished to contribute their bounty to such a fund Another difficulty that would be obviated is the relignation of superannualed ministors, who are now compolled to hold on to their places for the sake of the educies to sepport them. Why bould the Cherch work the clergymen until

STATE OF THE NATION. The order of the dev heing Dr. Breckinridge's caper, already peblished, was read, and had been moved to adoption.

Judge A. Gamble, of St. Louis, rose with resolution, prefaced by some kind, excellent, and epirited remarks. The sectiments of the Doctor's paper met with his hearty approval; but he longht the state of the church was such as to require of this body grent care, tenderness, and tolerant regard for those who differ with us in pullical opinions. He thought the church hal previously made n sefficient declaration of its loyalty, and while there was no use to adopting this deliverance, it would create great embarransent in tha church if present to a final yota. He would not unprecently increase the discorder. would not unnecesserity increase the discord of the church. It is solely a matter of expedience, to which he hoped the discussion would be con-fined. He, therefore, resolved, in affect, that in is regarded as inexpedient to take further hought there was no need of all the time protest into get that was no need of all the time protesting one loyalty—of crying it aloud in the streets. It may create a euspicion against us.

Both the documente and Judge Gentble's resolution being declared before the house for discussion. Dr. Breckinridge rose. Ho did not propose to discuse the principles involved in the paper. Some of his brethere in Kentocky exhorted him out to present the paper but he could not feel.

who are reballious? Do you not owe a duty to God, to the human race, to the couetry?

We can do no good without some corresponding evil; but that is no reason why it should not be done. If it were proved that beed harm (which he could deny) would be done, still we are bound to accomplish the overwhelming good involved. Here is your country deluged by war, and here are two hundred and lifty ministers and elders sitting here as delegate from God, end seeing a country hathed in blocd, and all the shaking of the country cannot break your dumbnoss on this sulject. You cannot go back and face your congregations without doing something in healf of your country. Make a proclamation of Gode vour country. Msks a proclamation of God's will rebuking the treasor, and who will stand he-fore it? No body but madmen, nobedy but trai-

but Irain time is up.
Dr. Junkie referred to the position of Dr. Mc-P. solers, of St. Louis, who would not answer any questions in relation to his politics, nor permit his or any other ecclesiastical body to catchise him on his political principles, and remarked that if he meant party politics he was right, but if he meant the great principles of civil government he was wrong. He and every other Christian Minister should keep bis party politics to himself, operids. These dictrines are of G.d., and belong to our theology. The gen'lemen who have spiken against this deliverance assure us that they corially coccur in its sentiments. Glad to bear it; o much is gained in botal of the truth. They sil us that we chall distract and divide the thurches by this decument, that the declaration of the last General Assembly throw desired into our ranks, and this will increase and difficulty to estill greater extect. But what is the historical fact? The fact is that the Ecceptain ical Calbau of the South (Dr. Thornfell was probably allufed to), after the Commiscleeiastical Calbutu of the State (Or. Thornwell was probably alluded to), after the Commissioners had been regularly appointed to that General Assembly, called the Southard Churches together and annulied those appointments before the meeting of the Church took place before and not after the ceiting of that holy on this suit of the Church took place before and not after the ceitin of that holy on this suit of the country that the country of the ceiting of the ceiting of the country of the ceiting not after the ection of that body on this aut of c. The contast is past—the difficulty is over with, and the large measure of speed health the church still maintains will be increased by the unanimous adoption of this document. The feeling that the paper will throw diverd among our brothern of the border States and create division, is not a loyel feeling. I is the more opinion of the gentlement that it will create division of the gentlement that it will create division, on the contrary, my opinion that it will not produce any trouble whatever; and perhaps one coin in its us good as the other.

the spirit of that body and the encooragement of that people has built up a flourishing branch of that people has built up a flourishing branch of that people has built up a flourishing branch of the Church.

Dr. Halsey related another incident He had noticed that a cortain church bad boxes fixed outside, into which the people deposited what they pleased. On asking the paster how his church was sustained, the reply was, that no cllection was ever taken. "We never say mozey is our church." Each Christian is tought that charity—putting the hand into the pocket and giving for the needy and for benevolent offices—in essential to Christian loyalty. We teach them that every Christien gives a little of his gatherings to the cause of God. The people accordingly deposit in the box of their own suggestion, as a sense of duty; we open them, pay our expenses, support the poor, and contribute to the enterprises of the church.

He elso related the cese of e poor schoolmaster, who sat eport a shilling per week for the first. the poor, and contribute to the enterprises of the church.

He elso related the cess of e poor schoolmaster, who set epert a shilling per week for the firsy year, and doubled it the next, &c., until he had been known to give $100 at once. He deposited in the hank of the Lord, and though semetimes ba was compelled to draw upon it for his family, yet he promptly peid it heck. He was an old fashioned Presbyterian, and was for sending out an injunction to the churches to he punctual in thair contributions to ell our boards.

Rev. Wm. Bishop, of Kansas, spoke of the coodition of the Church in that young State, that had heen "cradled in the storm." The Board for Church Extession and the State of Kansas are shoult the same ege, and he felt peccliarly interested in hoth. But two Churches in that State had not received anything, and not more than $500 together. Wa bave not the means to work with. As tobacco was romowhet ventilated yesteday, he wisbed to ventil to high steeples. He heard of a Minister's glorifying in Naves! He heard of a Minister's glorifying in Naves en Naves egoverument, a report was read from the stand that Kehmond was taken and Jeff Davis espinited, which was followed by clapping of hand end uproation; cheering, effar which

Dr. Junkin—Charity is a most sacred religions duty—as binding as prayar. Every Christian should consult his pocket as as well as his heart, and contribute every Sunday some token of the fifth in the chape of increy for God's cause. The gentlemen from Kansas spoke of the Beardas the youngest sister of the Church, and the State of the Beardas the youngest sister of the Church, and the State of the Beardas the youngest sister of the Church, and the State of the Beardas the youngest sister of the Church, and the State of the Church and the State of th

Murshall and McMillan spoke in favor of the ad ption of Breckingidge's paper, as a solomn duty to the church, end to strengthen the hands of Christian brethron in the South. It would save substitute on the teble, which carried by a gree surstitute on the tears, which carried by a great majority. Dr. Dumont thought this disrespect-ful, and to rataliste, moved to tebla Breckin-ridge's paper. Dr. Backus wished to speak, not Breckinridge induced Dumont, in consideration of Backus heing opposed to the paper, to withdraw his motion, that he might have a constants his motion, that he might have en opportunity to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

Columnus, May 23, 1862. It being understood that Dr. Breckinridge's deliverance on the relation of the Chnred to rehel-lion was the order of the day for yesterday after-nant, a large crowd assaubled, and the interest manifested in the discussion was intense. Many came in from the railro-ds as well as the aerround ing country, to feel the pulse of this assembly of great divines, in relation to our astional fate. The inquiry upon every fee second to be one the inquiry up in every face seemed to be, eau a body et the Ministers in israel regard the sulvation of popular institutions with so much calmess of heert ns to lessitate in the ndeption of eimple dectrine of the document that Christianity bonest in their conviction that no good can be effected to the country by that which they think would spread discard through the Church. But he reflection could hat recur no econ es the spell If the South, could take the least excaption the doctrines of the paper under discussion. The every one it was manifest that if the Union should be divided, the Church also would be sundered and what would be gained by this regard for the feelings of trainors? On the contrary, if the Government about he maintained over ell the States, even those members of the Church th their bones are laid in the grave? He wished the Assembly to recommend come efforts in this di-rection as soon as the country shall he relieved of and, therefore, the great interest of the Assembly should seem to be to strengthen the Union enti-ment by invoking in its behalf the authority of religion. It would seem as if the Church could therefore, lose nothing by the unenimous passage of the deliverance, but would gain much in sub-sidizing to its favor the profound patriotic sentiment of the country. Any organization, to florrish in the future, must warmly respond to the omnipotent epirit that presides over the epoch. He who now eap les with the enemies of his country, of freelom, and of minkind, must receive the sentence from the judgment seat of the living, momentous Present: "Depart—away! I no more know you!" I no more know you!

would do more than anything else to ra-establish our national unity. He hald that there was a government in the South to which Christians are und to be loyal antil the arbitrament of force

Dr. Misshall—They have no government; it is rehellion from beginning to end. Mr. McKee—What is a government?

Dr. Juckin in his seat.—You will find out before his discussion is anded.
Mr. McKee—Is there not a government when thare are constituted authorities able to anforce their lews? Who can deny their having such a govarnment? It can enforce the severest ponal-ties for violations of their laws. Are not Christians then as much bound to obsy, as they are here to be by all to our own laws? What right then have was to interfere with them? ave wa to interfere with them? As well might another deliverance touching our loyalty, and as such a procedure would produce disord in the Chnrch, why harp upon it now? Henry Clay was sound when hadeclared that the division of the Chorches would break the strongest ries of the political Union of the States. Mr McKee would held on to the Church for the sake of the Usin. He would always be true to the country and true to the Church. Rev. Mr. Williams, of Chillicothe, and Mr. Forman, of Misconri, spoke to the same affect,

Swift, D. D., as such delogate. Dr. Breckinrilge said it was probable that he was one of the very few surviving members of the General Assembly who participated in the violent proceedings that disrupted the Presbyterian Church. Now, es a servant of God, standing on the varge of the grave, he declared de illerate approbation of all that he did not that time. Before the thrane of God he was ready to take his share of responsibility of what was their his share of responsibility of what wes their sim. He thought God had eignally blessed all that was then done. He noticed Dr. Hoge, Dr. Musgrave, and Dr. Junkin, end the Moder-Dr. Musgrava, and Dr. Junkin, and the Moderator as among the old heroes of that time. He had done all hi crell to get hack all those who night not to have left the church is well as to keep or all thit should not be taken back. The entire New School hody of Kentucky had been prought back mindly through his instrumentality. This is my position. No hing, should be done aren in a remote degree to throw uncertalaty upon the righteousness of what was done in the division of the Church. He hid no objection to the establishment of a family and fraternal to the establishment of a family and fratern correspondercy between the two bedies. He thinks the OH School Church is more cound d crine than before 1838, and the New Scho d crine than before 1838, and the Naw School hody is nearer to us now than before the division. We often do that which is magnanianus, and will not be approved by the conscience when brought to the test. Yesterday, some of my brothren came within a hair's breadth of persuading ma to do that which they think is right, but which I know is wrong. (Alluding to his deliverance, probably.) He would then propose, that, if this is the midd of the Assembly, that this care pundance should take place, to say that the time has come to establish a treaty of intercourse. mo has come to establish a treaty of interconf ich you, and we send you this minute as an in-intive of future fraternal relations. THE BOSTON COUNIER. - Our reacers wi find in another column the prospectus of this stanch conscivative journal. We cannot say too much-in praise of the Boston Courier. The fidelity and intelligence and ability with which throughout the present struggle this fearless journal has maintaine the principles of the Constitution and the in tegrity of the Union are above all praise. N tho least noticeable or the least valuable of the Conrier's merits as a champion of conservatism in the North is discretion Whilst assailing thoroughly and effectively tho measures of the Republicans, it is careful to give indirectly no moral aid and comfort t the sccessionists. Its vigorous hlows upon the Northern enemies of the country are never so awkwardly or so rashly dealt as to rebound upon the Southern friends of the country. I is as discreet as it is loyal and ablo. It fights with both eyes open. It is guided by a sound head inspired by a sound heart. L'atriots in the nation everywhere and especially in the South owe tho Boston Courier a deht of admiration and of gratitude. Wo hope they will not be slow to discharge in a substantial form the indebtedness.

Union Between Union Men -Every one will at once assent to this motto as expressing a princip!e essential to our national existence But all do not see the full application of this effectual, must embrace the Union men, not whole country. To maintain such a union, it is indispensable that true men in the most remote sections of the country should under stand each other, and maintain a constant interchange of feeling and opinion. It is not too much to say that the failure of hooes men thus to know each other, and to work to gether for the safe'y and welfare of the country, is the principal reason that the villains of both sections have had it all their own way i the preduction and maintenance of our nation al disasters.

The great body of the people North and Sonth are and have been honest, patriotic, and sincerely attached to our institutions. But other. And there has been no sufficient chap nel for the correction of this abuse. For al the popular newspapers of general circulation which are maintained by sales and not by sub scriptions, instead of correcting this nbuso, ar the most industrious agents in perpetuating i

The reason of this is curions, hut very plain The wonderful increase in our day of a read ing population in the cities, towns, and val lages, who read for pleasure and excitemen gave rise to a peculiar class of writings, fu nished in vast ahunoauce, weigh has obtained the name of the yellow-back literature. few succe sful experiments soon proved that the most profitable commercial adventure i the newspaper department would be to minis ter to the same diseased appetite at a still cheaper rate. To sell Dailies and Weeklie on the streets and in every place of public re sort expressly got up to minister to thi craving appetite for excitement, and to fee every sick delusion which factory girls and apprentice boys, and the still larger class of old women in pantaloons, might love, wa found to ho the most profitable form of news paper enterprise. And so the Herald and the Tribune and other New York Dailies, and Harper's Week'y, and others of like stamp all of which may well he styled, the Spiusie literature, have been vicing with oach other in their common effort of money making auc mischief-making. And these are the source from which the Southern people derive their in pressions of Northero feeling and judgm n Through these same channels the Southe communities have heeu maligned and misrep resented to their Northern hrethren

Tours is hut one remedy for this self progs gating mischief. True meo everywhere murefuse to swell the profits of these low sensation jouroals, and must establish between the North and South a tree and constant interchange thought and feeling, by taking, in addition to the favorite paper in their own State, som strong, healthy, constitution-loving journal published in a distant section of this broad land; a journal faithfully representing the con servative feeling of the honest masses of its own region of country, and carnestly engaged in sustaining and maintaining that feeling. Our Southern and Western conserva tives have been especially derelies in this matter. They are large pairons of the sensation mischief-making papers, and hardly ever see nny better representatives of Northern sentiment. To all our triends in this region we earnestly recommend the Boston Conrier and truly representative of the highest class of New England mind, and as nohly huttling now with ns for law and liberty, for the Constillation as it is, and for the Union as it was. Le us show our appreciation of such true devo tion and enlightened patriotism. Let the true lovers of their country everywhere seck to understand and determine to stand hy each other. Then, and then only, will they he strong to save that country, and to perpetnate its freedour and happiness.

Union MEETINGS -Wa are gratified to see tha the kyal men in every section of the State ar fully aware of the importance of securing proper p rsons to fill the various offices for which elec tions will be held in Angust. A division of streng' upon several candidutes in a county will enable the sympathizers with accession to create confu sion and |r drce trouble. It is indispensable therefore, that the claims of aspirants should be settled by conventions, so that there shall he bu one Union candidate for each office. We call therefore, upon our friends throughout the State to imitate the example of Breckinridga county Our friends there held a meeting on the 19.h at Hardinsburg, It being the opening of court; Col David R. Mnrray presided; the Hon. John B Brnner ected as secretary; and James G. Haswell, E q., offered the following resolution, which was ananimonsly adopted:

Resolved, That we recommend the holding of a Convention of the Union party of Breckinging county, on the third Monday in June, for the party of the party f nominating anitable persone as candidate next August election, and that the said Convention may be fully attended, we recommend the voteract the Union party to meet at their respec tive places of voting throughout the county, of Saturday, the 14th day of June, and appoint delegates to said Convention.

THE POTICE BILL -The General Council wa again in session ou Saturday evening, having bar called tegether to consider the ordinance known ss the police bill, which has passed the Board of Aldermen. The material gregion at issue is a to the mode of appointing the police. The ordi nance as it passat the upper board provides that the Mayor, in car junction with two mambers of each board, shall have power to appoint watch men, which appointments shall be ratified by the two boards. The proposition dies not ecein to meet with favor in the lower board, that body preferring to possess the power to elect in joint cossiou. One section of the ordinance, as ameeded on Saturday evening, dalega'e to the Mayor tha power to appoint a Chief of Polidu and a clerk to the same, subject to the ratification of the Cau cils. There will be an other meetin of the two Boards this evenience.

ATTEMPT TO RESCUE PRISONERS-DFATH OF BUD RICHARDSON, ONE OF A GUERILLA

CUMBERLAND FORD, May 22. Several prisoners taken in slight skirmishe around this vicinity were carried to Lexing'o the latter part of last week, and, as an incider occurred on the route which is apt to he magnifiinto a bona fide Lincoln cutraga by the eecession ists who are searching so untiringly for thos articles, I bave taken the pains to get the truth of the story from the Lieutenant who commande the guard.

Lient. Sutlen, company G, Third Kentneky Col. Garrard, was detailed to conduct the prison ers to Lexington, and was explicitly instructe by Gen. Morgan that if one of the prisoners were escape through his negligence he would be hel o a rigid responsibility. Of course the Lieutensi nder the circumstances determined that nothin ut death shou'd wrest one of them from his hands He took the pressurion every night of posting icka s and k seping a light borning oll night an ed no intimation of trouble until he reached Richnord, Ky, which, although a lovely village other respects, is unfortunately tainted in en ngly legroe with a cossimism. Here he was told pri alcly that he might expect tronble when he halted for the night, as some half dozen rabio chals had sworn to release his prisoners or give im trouble in the attempt. He marched late, several honses at which he stopped were nawill ing to teke bis party in for the nigh", and he dis liked to bring the mill'ary necessity to basr up's them. He finally was compelled to halt about click near Foxtown, about six miles west chmond, and here he to k the same precautio

e had taken before. About Rine o'clock the galloping of hordes wa eard on the road towards Richmond, and he wa dmonished of it by his pickets. He told his orer o do nothing exerpt at his command, and he aid ofterward that he wes more nneary at 11 dea of his men acting rashly them he was at the des of the rebels succeeding in their designs one ten hersemen cune galloping in sight shouting ard waving their hands. A SUNDAY IN ST. PETERSBURG. ST PETERSBURO, RUSSIA, Feb. I, 1862. I drove down on the Neva opposite Winter Palace, last Sunday evening, to witness the trotthig races on the ics. A smooth place is cleared on the ice, about a quarter of a mile leng and twen y yards broad. The turn at each and is very endden, the space between the two tracks heing no more than twenty-five yards across Two of these tracks are beside one enother, every part of both being sasily soen from the windows of the Palace, showing evidently that his M jesty is not averse to the sport. Both tracks arn surrounded by a rope fence and strictly guarded by numerons policemen. On either sidn of the track for a hundred yards or more are built up rows of seats, circus fashion, for shout twelve cants each. At the starting point is a stand capabis of holding a few handred people, and was crowded to overflowing with the nobility and Isdies and gentlemen of wealth. The twelve-cent (aftern oopak) piaces were so crowded that all had to stand, and even then for a long time before the racs commenced It was impossible to get a standing

The Rasslan mnjick - with their long beards and sheep kin coats-f rmed an additional fence of themselves around the rope fanc ; besides the great crowd in and around the track, the quay opposite the palace was so densely crowded that, In passing hy, one was compalled to take the street Instead of the pavement. I heard it astimated that there were as many as ten thousand persons assembled on the lce and on the quay. The horses were brought up by the ringing of a large hell from the stand; they were hitched to smell sleds with a high desh but very low sest. The sleds weighed but little over fifty pounds; their occupants three times as much. They were immedletsly placed in trotting order, and, at the word "paschol," they all started. There were but three entries; one horse had an entire track to himself, the other two wern placed on opposite sidee of the same track and started in opposite directions, so that, ro difference how often they went around, there was no danger of any socident from a collision in making the short turn. They trotted around the oblong track five times, making the whole distance something over a mile. The horses moved at a vary fair speed, but they, as most other Russlan horses, are more noticeable for the grace and beauty with which they move than for any special swiftness, although Russia can boast some very fast horses, one I believe having completed his twenty mlles in an honr.

No whip was used by any of the racers, for it is peculiarly Russian to urge the horse to greater exertion more by words then by hlows. An occasional eaw of the mouth or a lick with the rein was used is eddition to the many endearing terms in which the drivers addressed their horses. The race must have been exceedingly interesting to the Russlans, if I may judge of the number present, and the 'ortlinde wi h which they bore the cold and exposure during the interval between heats; but in me. I must confess that it was rather tame sport, and not el'ogether liking the manner in which I was crowded, I concluded to crose the hridge and take a ride down the river behird some reindeer that I saw there in a sled. On nearing the spot I found a number of Lap'anders, with their sleds and reindeers, win had come down from Lapland to spend the winter in St. Petershnrg, in order to better their fortune hy driving the curious over the ice of the Neva. There were funr sleds-each about ten feet long, ard the seat, or rather framework, two feet high; two or three narrow slips were tacked on behind for a beck: this, as elso the top of the framework was covered with the skin of the reindeer. There keep them going by jobbing them on the buttooks with a long pole he carried in bls hand. That rlde, though hort, did a great deal to lessen my opinion of the swiftness of reiodears; 'tis true they had been driven a great deal, and were not urged to their fastest spe.d, but neverthelees I am icc ined to the belief that the idea that so noiversal y prevalls of the great swiftness of the roindear is a vain delnsion.

One of the Laplanders had his tout on the ice; It was the shape of an Indian tent made by Inclined poles crossing one another at the top, and covered with skins of the door, leaving an aperthreat the top of about a fast in diameter, to serve as a place of egress for thn smoks, when very cold weather forced him to indulge in the luxury of a fire, or for that which is more nnusual-of cooking his meat. I was ied by curlosity to enter the tent; so I peid the antrance feefive copeks-and was admitted through a small hole mede by pulling one of the skins to one side, that, when down, ispped over to the other skins. The floor was covered with boards, and these with reindeer skins three or four thick. Seated on the skins in one corner were a couple of women of very small stature and perfectly vellow complexion. They were dressed entirely in fars, and, like the men also, had on hut two garments; one was simply a sack, with head and arm-holes; the other, pants and socks combined, that covered the sleigh could make its wey in the door, when off I feet, and came up high enough to hutton to the eped through the beautifully lighted streets, sack. One of them bad a young behy in her arms, and it, like its mother, was very yellow, flat-faced, and resembling more a species of orang outang than a human heing. The other woman was engaged in sewing upon a deer skin Thubs, using thread made of the tinews of the deer. Beside them was a large place of reindner meat, wbich I was informed they ate raw. Thus you will see that the reindeer is the Laplander's all; its flesh serves him for food, Its skin for clothing, for his tent, for his harness, for his snow shoes, and also for traffic. Thinks' caps, skins, &c, were exhibited for sale; also ger the city. Owners have the privilege of reseveral pairs of snow shoes. These were about four feet long, belf an inch think, and four broad. They carved slightly at the polat, like a sinighrunner, and were covered under the bottom with the reindest skin, the hair suaning beckwards, so that, going forward, the hair being smooth would g early assist the impetns, and in ascending an laclined plane the rough side of the hair would prevent slipping backwards. Scattered around the tent la different places were six or eight Russians, with their gambling tables, swindling children and muj.ks out of their copeks.

It, however, will show the the crowd of carriages. After throwing off our Thubs we were first shown into the card-toom; forty or fifty tables were placed around the room, with a couple of packs of cards in the centre of each, and a large gnid-plated candle-stick on every crouer. In a few minntes the doors were opened and we untered the baltroom—already quite crowded with military officers and gentisms and ledies of the court.

The rooms were extremely large and elegent, and in addition to the handreds of lights supported.

Williamshurg.

An incident which we cannot refrain from publishing, although it was not intended for the public eye. It, however, will show the appalling crime of those who brought on this guilty war, and, prompted by ambition, have arrayed hrother against brother and broken up all the social and fricudly relations of our country. The letter is dated May 16, in the camp before Corinth, and we extract the following touching narrative, related in the simple language of a friendly correspondence:

The rooms were extremely large and elegent, and in addition to the handreds of lights supported.

Noffering the KENTUCKY CLIPPUR, improved, for 1663, we are conduct that all the requisites for a per-I Mowing Machine will be found in it. It is cheap, light r in reciph and dray, than any other yet made; discipling in construction, and durable. Among the polute of excellence in this machine may be enamerated:

First—It has two independent diving-wheels, both drivers (yet with but one set of ge.r). The sheels are each coupled to the shaft hay a pawl and ratchet, so that in backlag the machine is cut of gear, yet what cooling t ward may be thrown in or out of gear at pleasure.

Second—The cuttr—than is fointed or hisped, so as readily to adjust the life uneven surfaces, and is easily reised by means of a lever, to pass over obstructions. It may also be raised and folded over in near of the frame. It is made of two best at a real, this, turigld and strong. The fingers are all made of wrought from, and the cutting "Third. The applies residue, with the execution of the first and the cutting." ne entire machine, with the exception of the ton c, is made of iron and steel, yet very light, weighing Width of swath four teet.

GENLIEMEN: I have tried your Kentacky Clipper in the same field with a "Burkeye," cuttle gelover. The ground rad very rough, and consequently neither machine could cut very close; but the e-war a vert difference between he cut of the Burkeye and the cut of the Clipper. The Clipper's work was at least twenty five per cent, the best, the Burkeye can cut a little taper than the Clipper for two issuence, which is the word of the Clipper, I cut the district of the Burkeye was netwined for repairs, and this is the great difficulty with the Clipper, I cut the night to that turner sharter to pieces in two scasens. I am practly attended a world rather have the Clipper at he same price. I do not think the draft of the Clipper is a uch more thea balt that of the Burkeye.
